REPUBLICAN CLUBS MEET AT CLEVELAND

FIGHT ON SILVER AND GOLD IS LIKELY.

Delegates to the Convention Realize the Importance of Any Action Taken At This Time—Many Points of the Situation—Protective Tariff Leage Have Fine Headquarters.

Cleveland, O., June 19.—Nearly 1,000 delegates have arrived for the National League convention, which opens to-day. Among the silver men the sentiment is said to be unanimous that the convention must take decided action on the money question, and that a compromise will not be accepted. Senator Carter believes that the league should avoid the money question, but if considered he will insist that free silver at a ratio of 16 to 1 be incorporated in the resolutions. Dubois is eager for a contest and vehement in arguing that the party should declare for silver if it wants the western states. Surprise was occasioned by the determined stand taken by the Louisiana and Mississippi delegations against silver. The Iowa, North Dakota, Minnesota, Arkansas, Illinois and Pennsylvania delegates here will oppose any action on the money question unless it be the adoption of a compromise resolution.

The big New York delegation arrived last night and its members favor the gold standard. Gen. E. A. McAlpin of New York is the eastern candidate for league president. Secretary A. B. Humphrey seems to have clear sailing for re-election. Friends of Senator Elkins say he is not a candidate for league president.

The American Protective Tariff League has elaborate headquarters here this week in charge of General Secretary Wilbur F. Wakeman of New York. This organization has over 1,000 auxiliary leagues, 3,000 official correspondents and over 6,000 newspapers using its bureau matter. It is said to be forming an alliance here with the anti-silverites of the south, whatever may be its policy on a further combine for 1896. The Pennsylvania delgates are co-operating closely with the tariff league and working with the southern delegates for protection and the gold standard without regard to the contest for president of the National league.

Senators Carter and Dubois are more eagerly sought after than ever, as they are recognized as the leaders of the silver movement, and all western delegates want to meet them. The silver men are said to be greatly disappointed over the attitude of the mountaineers and the colored men from the south. The southern delegates say the Democrats of the southern states are dividing on the silver question and they want nothing done at this convention on that issue, and if the issue is forced they will vote with the eastern and other delegates against free silver, so as to have a point of difference with the southern Democrats that will break the lines of race prejudice. The southern delgates are for a policy of expediency, and say, the old Whig element of the south is for gold as well as for protection, and that the solid south can be broken by the Republicans declaring plainly in favor of both those principles.

The southern states are more largely represented than in former years. There is a movement to avoid any decisive action now on the tariff, silver or other disputed questions, and to hold the annual meeting next year after the Republican national convention, so as to avoid the embarrassment of anticipated action on issues that are contested.

The free silver men held a conference last night and decided to make an aggressive fight notwithstanding the rumored disaffection of southern delegates on whom they had depended. The silver men say they will run Col. Isaac Trumbo of Salt Lake City for president of the league and show their strength on a ballot. Senators Carter and Dubois are working hard for Trumbo. The latter will precipitate the silver fight by offering a 16 to 1 resolution to-day and urge its consideration before the committee on resolutions is appointed.

Will Crush the Rebellion.

New York, June 19.—A special from Bogota, Colombia, says: "Three thousand soldiers have just been sent to the department of Cauca. They are under Gen. Reyes, who formerly defeated the rebels. It is asserted that there are 13,000 rebels there and that they are well equipped. A report is current that the rebels are marching toward this city. Many persons have been arrested on a charge of being in a conspiracy to capture President Caro and carry him inside the rebel lines as a hostage. Great alarm is felt."

Indiana Town Destroyed by Fire.

Franklin, Ind., June 19.—Bluff Creek, a small country town off the railroad, has been almost entirely destroyed by fire. Fourteen buildings, including three general stores with their contents, were also consumed. The loss is heavy.

LOOK FOR TROUBLE.

European Diplomats Uneasy Over the Gathering at Kiel.

New York, June 19.—A special from Paris says:

"Kiel was the reason for the speech delivered by M. Honataux, French minister of foreign affairs, and it was also the reason for the conferring by the czar of the decoration of the order of St. Andrew upon President Faure—two facts of capital importance.

"But other demonstrations of a similar sort are expected this week at Kiel. It is probable that the Russian and French fleets will concurrently start for and depart from Kiel and will also afterward proceed together to Copenhagen to coal. These two movements of the fleets will be one demonstration, but a counter demonstration by the German emperor is probable. Reports received by diplomatists say that Emperor William will make a speech expressing his pleasure at seeing all the nations of Europe his guests and especially two who have all his sympathy and whose friend he himself wishes to be. This speech will be the culmination of the festivities and it is dreaded by every one. 'The kaiser at the present moment is very inimical to England,' said a diplomatist in speaking of the matter, 'and French statesmen have seriously blundered since 1870. They ought to have been able to turn the public opinion of France against England, for England is France's sole enemy.'

"In diplomatic circles it is hoped that everything will pass off happily at Kiel. Stringent orders have been given to all the admirals, with the object of preventing any departure from the officially prescribed order of ceremonies."

SULTAN IS STUBBORN.

Demands of the Great Powers Not Yet Assented To.

Constantinople, June 19.—The Turkish government has made a fresh reply to the note of the powers outlining the reforms insisted upon for Armenia. The porte accepts the principle of the proposed reforms, but requests that several of the points be discussed before any action is taken. The Turkish government also denies that the terms of the treaty of Berlin confer the right of demanding the guarantees formulated by the powers and expresses the hope that the sultan's sovereign rights will not be prejudiced. The impression which prevails here is that this last reply is tantamount to a refusal and it is feared that the powers will adopt more urgent measures to enforce their demands. The British Mediterranean squadron, which arrived at Beirut on June 1, has sailed from that port for Tripoli.

Re-enforcements of Russian troops, it has now been definitely been ascertained, have been sent to the Turkish frontier in the vicinity of Armenia in order to prevent the passage of marauders and supplies of arms and ammunition.

CALLS EXTRA SESSION.

Illinois' Governor Summons Legislature to Meet Next Tuesday.

Springfield, Ill., June 19.—Governor Altgeld yesterday issued a call for an extra session of the legislature to convene on Tuesday, June 25, 1895, at 2 o'clock p. m. The call recites that the tax levy made by the thirty-ninth general assembly is inadequate in view of the appropriations made; that the revenue system of the state needs revision; that the jury system needs reforming, and that the prison-labor problem needs the attention of the legislature.

One thing about the proclamation that is causing comment is the fact that it does not authorize the legislature to make an appropriation to pay the necessary expenses that will arise during the session. On this account there will be no means of paying the employes and it is doubtful whether the members can draw their pay until an act making the appropriation has been passed.

Would Be a Powerful Union.

Chicago, June 19.—A call will be sent out soon for a conference of representatives of the building trades in the larger cities to organize an international building trades council. The intention is to hold the conference in Chicago, and the building trades of Canada, as well as those of the United States, will be asked to participate. The object is to solidify the various central councils of the building trades so that in case of disputes and strikes greater resistance may be made. It is proposed to make working cards interchangeable so that a man traveling from one city to another will have no difficulty in finding employment with his fellow union men.

Water Supply Gives Out.

Waterloo, Ind., June 19.—Fire at Angola, fourteen miles north of this city, threatened the complete destruction of the town. Several buildings were burned, when the water supply gave out, and a special train carried water from this place with which to check the flames. Loss heavy, but partly insured. The fire is under control.

Re-enforcements for Campos.

Madrid, June 19.—Advices received here from Havana say that four squadrons of cavalry have arrived there and that six squadrons of cavalry have arrived at Puerto Principe, capital of the province of that name.

Robbers Steal a Postoffice Safe.

Moweaqua, Ill., June 19.—For the second time within a week the postoffice at Macon, seven miles north of here, has been robbed. This time they took out the safe from the office, loaded it in a wagon, took it a mile south of town and blew it open with giant powder, securing $140 in cash and nearly $100 in stamps. There is not the slightest clew to the thieves.

Death in a Nebraska Cyclone.

North Platte, Neb., June 19.—Monday a terrible cyclone passed over the central western portion of Lincoln county. Several houses were blown down, many outbuildings and windmills were leveled to the ground, and one man, Benjamin Young, a farmer living near Sutherland, was killed.

M'LAUGHLIN IS SENT TO A SING-SING CELL

EX-POLICE INSPECTOR SENTENCED TODAY.

He Will Serve Two Years and Six Months In Prison as the Punishment For Accepting Bribes—An Insane Iowa Woman Poisons Her Three Children.

New York, June 19.—Police Inspector McLaughlin, who was convicted of accepting bribes, while in his officiel position, was today sentenced to two years and six months in Sing Sing prison.

Shellsburg, Ia., June 19.—Mrs. Sanford Gillis, aged about 38, wife of a well-to-do farmer living six miles north of town, gave poison to three of her six children and herself, all for of them dying very soon afterward. She gave the fatal doses about dark Monday evening, while her husband was feeding his stock, leaving two of the little ones in the house, while she took the youngest, aged 4, in her arms and started out of the house. After going a short way she fell to the ground, where she and the child were found dead.

The dead children range in age from 4 to 8. Mrs. Gillis had been in poor health many years and had just recently returned from Indiana, where she had been taken for treatment. Her husband and her mother, Mrs. Noyes, who had been her daughter's constant companion during her life, were planning to take Mrs. Gillis to the hospital for the insane at Independence for treatment. During the last few days she made the assertion a number of times that she intended going away, but little attention was given her remarks by the family, who were aware of her demented condition.

TAYLOR PLEADS GUILTY.

Presents Himself Before the Court at Sioux Falls, S. D.

Sioux Falls, S. D., June 19.—W. W. Taylor yesterday voluntarily presented himself before Judge Gaffy of the Circuit court at a special session summoned for the purpose and pleaded guilty to embezzling $344,000 from the state in January last. He declared he had no money. In discussing his wanderings Taylor said that he left the country earlier than many suppose. He did not make up his mind that it would be impossible for him to settle until the day before Christmas. He said: "On Jan. 3 I left Chicago and went to Tampa, from which place I sailed on the 5th for Havana by way of Key West. Thence after a few days I sailed to Vera Cruz. I did not go to the City of Mexico. I bought a ticket for that place in order to throw the detectives off the track, and evidently succeeded admirably, for I understood that they have repeatedly reported that I was in Mexico. I went over almost all of South America, and then sailed for this country and went to one of the large northern cities, where I have lived for the last three months and where I could have remained indefinitely without fear of discovery."

There have been many stories told about an alleged compromise, and the arrangement having the most general circulation is that Taylor is to get a two-year sentence and a pardon from Gov. Sheldon before January 1, 1897, Taylor to turn over $70,000 cash, his bondsmen $30,000, he to convey all his property as payment in full for his $363,000 deficit; all other criminal and civil prosecutions to be stopped. But the denial of this story by the officers is generally believed.

CALLS SPAIN TO TIME.

United States Demands the Settlement of the Mora Difficulty.

Washington, June 19.—The state department has taken steps according to the forms of diplomatic intercourse to exact from Spain the payment of the long-standing Mora claim, a claim admitted by Spain in 1888 to be entitled to payment, and which Spain promised to pay in December of that year $1,500,000. Minister Taylor has been informed by telegraph of the insistance of the United States upon prompt payment of the indemnity and has been decided to press for settlement and immediate payment. This dispatch went to Minister Taylor on June 11. The full letter of instruction, which left here on June 8, will be in his hands in a day or two at the furthest. The expectation is that there will be a prompt and satisfactory settlement and payment at once. Extreme measures will follow delay.

Evidence in Scott Case.

Butte, Neb., June 19.—Four witnesses were examined in the Scott case yesterday. For the state the most important ones were Miss McWhorter, who was in the carriage with Mr. and Mrs. Scott and daughter when the assault was made, and her testimony was sensational in the extreme. She related the assault of Parker and positively identified Mullihan as the man who did all of the talking and who demanded Scott to give up the Holt county money. She also identified Harris. Her testimony was a decided sensation.

Will Reorganize Insurance Company.

New York, June 19.—A morning paper says a meeting of the directors of the Equitable Mutual Fire insurance company was held yesterday afternoon and it was unanimously resolved to reorganize the company. The books of the concern were carefully gone over and it is understood the directors agreed to assume payment of the outstanding losses.

GLADSTONE LEAVES LORD ROSEBERRY

HE IS DISSATISFIED WITH THE PREMIER'S ACTS.

London Times Thinks the Action Of the "Grand Old Man" Means the Certain Overthrow of the Ministry—Lady Somerset Is Again Made Leader of the Temperence Women

London, June 19.—The Times announces that Mr. Gladstone has withdrawn from his pairing agreement with the Hon. Charles Villiers, M. P., because he wishes to be regarded as having an open mind on the Welsh church disestablishment bill. In an editorial commenting on the above the Times says: "Blow upon blow has fallen on the government recently, but none is comparable to this, which means the withdrawal of Mr. Gladstone's moral support from Lord Rosebery's administration. Its effect will be widespread. The immediate prestige of his name has enabled the government to weather some dangerous storms, and it is the very foundation of the political fabric of the present government. It is hardly possible to escape the conclusion that he extends his disapproval to their general policy. It is believed that he wanted a more drastic dealing with the Armenian question. In any case his act will complete the disintegration of the government and is a portent of dissolution that cannot be misconstrued."

Lady Somerset Re-Elected.

London, June 19.—There was a large and enthusiastic gathering at the meeting yesterday in the city temple of the British Woman's Temperance association. Miss Frances E. Willard and the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of America were accused of being apologists for the lynching in the southern parts of the United States, but both Miss Willard and the American Woman's Christian Temperance Union were exonerated from the charges. Miss Willard made a spirited defense of herself and of the union. Lady Henry Somerset was re-elected president of the British Woman's Temperance association.

Jones had been visiting Rayfield's sister and Rayfield had threatened Jones with violence. The girl heard her people make threats to kill Jones, so she rose in the night and went four miles to the home of Jones to warn him. Not daring to take her home Jones took her to the house of a neighbor. When he departed for home some one fired two shots at him in the dark and Jones returned the fire, killing a man who proved to be Rayfield. Jones was unhurt."

CITY TREASURER SHORT.

Henry Bolln, of Omaha, Gets His Accounts Badly Mixed.

Omaha, Neb., June 19.—Henry Bolln, city treasurer, is short in his accounts, and a committee of his bondsmen is making a thorough examination of his books The examination has progressed far enough to show that the shortage is large. His books show a deposit in the Midland bank of $19,000, when in fact there is but $9,000 of the city money in the bank. The investigation will be pushed. It was at first thought Bolln had committed suicide, but last evening he was arrested in a roadhouse near Cut-Off lake and brought to the city hall, where he met the mayor and other city officials. He said his purpose was to kill himself had the officer not prevented. He confessed that he is $10,000 short in his accounts, but it is believed the shortage will be at least double that amount. For some time past, it is said, Mr. Bolln has neglected the duties of his office. He has succumbed to the influence of wine and women, and had spent money freely. It is claimed that he was intoxicated for days at a time, while the business of the office was left to his deputies. He has also lost heavily on business enterprises and it is said has been concerned largely in board of trade speculations and that his ventures in this direction have been generally disastrous.

UNCLE AND NEPHEW.

Remarkable Double Hanging at St Thomas, Ont.

St. Thomas, Ont., June 19.—John Hendershot and W. B. Welter, convicted of the murder of William Hendershot, were hanged here yesterday. The drop fell at 8:15 o'clock.

John Hendershot was the uncle and Welter was the cousin of William Hendershot, the man for whose murder the two were hanged. The crime was committed Dec. 14, 1894, the object being to realize upon insurance which the uncle had placed on the life of his nephew. John Hendershot is alleged to have planned the murder, which Welter committed while he and his cousin were alone felling trees. The evidence upon which conviction was obtained was purely circumstantial. Every effort was made to secure a reprieve for the condemned. Legal briefs were submitted to the dominion cabinet and Hendershot's daughter personally pleaded before the minister of justice for her father and cousin. She was engaged to be married to Welter.

BY FOREST FIRES.

The fires in the vicinity of Ritersville and Keshuqua are now confined to a stretch of territory of eight miles long and three miles wide. Large embankments have been thrown up about Keshuqua and it is believed the town is safe. Arnold & Gaffney, Gaffney Bros. and Elisha K. Kane are the principal losers. Millions of feet of logs and lumber have been destroyed and hundreds of acres of standing timber swept away. Everything is as dry as tinder and burns like chaff.

Trying to Save a Murderer.

Denver, Col., June 19.—Application has been made to the Supreme court for a writ of habeas corpus for Abraham Taylor Harrell, alias Abe Taylor, under sentence to be hanged at Canon City before the end of this week for the murder of Marshal Emerson at Alamosa. The warrant of conviction is alleged to be invalid, as it was made by the clerk of the court and not by the trial judge and the claim is set up that under the law Taylor cannot be resentenced and therefore must go free.

Ottawa, Ont., June 19.—Instructions have been issued from the marine department ordering the release of the tugs and scows seized on the Niagara River while dumping dredgings in Canadian waters. DESPERATE BATTLE IN CUBA.

Insurgents Almost Annihilate a Body of Spanish Troops.

Gainesville, Fla., June 19.—F. R. Anderfer of this city, an old friend of Major Wann of the Sixth Cuba volunteers, has received another letter direct from the seat of the Cuban rebellion. The letter is as follows:

"Arequipa, Province of Camaguay, Cuba, via Tampa, June 14.—Our troops to-day surprised a battalion of Spanish soldiers and almost completely annihilated them. It seems that their major, hearing that a wounded Cuban officer was being nursed at this place, decided to capture him. The Spanish major, taking his command, reached the village this morning before daybreak. After searching all the houses and not finding the wounded Cuban officer he called some citizens before him and demanded on pain of torture to know his hiding place. All denied any knowledge of the Cuban. The Spanish officer thereupon put all the citizens to torture.

"Meanwhile a Cuban had escaped and made all possible speed to us, reporting to Col. Roderiguez, who is in command. We were immediately ordered forward on double time. When we reached the village the scene beggared description. The Spaniards had fired the houses and were torturing and killing everybody. Women did not escape.

"Our men were wild with rage. After firing one volley they became so ferocious that they charged and were soon engaged in a hand-to-hand encounter. No quarter was given, and those of the Spaniards who were unhurt and had the strength fled in utter dismay. Dead and dying were lying in heaps about the place.

"This was the most desperate battle I have ever been engaged in. Our loss is 163 out of a force of 500, while the Spanish loss is 472 by actual count, including officers. We captured their complete outfit and arms. This battle will delay us in reaching Gomez, but we hope to join him to-morrow."

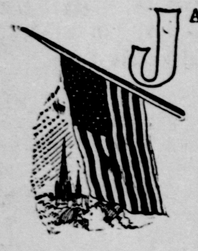
BIG CROWD HONORED THE STARRY BANNER

FLAG RAISING IN RIVERVIEW PARK LAST EVENING.

Speeches Were Made, the Y. M. C. A. Band and the G. A. R. Drum Corps Played and Fully a Thousand People Took Part in the Celebration—The Scene a Pretty One.



JANESVILLE people turned out in full force at the flag-raising in Riverview park last evening. The event drew out a large crowd of people, many of whom had never before visited the place, and the denizens put forth their best efforts to make all visitors welcome. The beautiful little park had been specially prepared for the occasion, and when the exercises began the crowd was estimated to number at least one thousand people, and a commodious band stand had been erected, around which the visitors assembled. George L. Carrington, the founder of Riverview, was chosen as master of ceremonies, and right well did he perform the duties assigned him. The exercises were opened with music by the Y. M. C. A. band, followed by an address by George L. Carrington, who made one of his characteristic speeches, filled with humor, patriotism, and a pleasant and cheering word for the good people who had assisted him in building up Riverview.

"America" was then sung by the assembled multitude, this being substituted for the number assigned the Y. M. C. A. quartette, who were unable to respond owing to the absence of one of their number.

J. M. Whitehead Spoke.

The address of the evening fell to J. M. Whitehead and it fell into able and patriotic hands. Mr. Whitehead never fails to arouse his hearers, his manner being so earnest, his voice so pleasant to listen to, and his well-rounded and eloquent sentences so full of thought and patriotism, that his hearers listen to catch every sound of his trained voice. His remarks last evening were on citizenship and the flag.

After music by the Y. M. C. A. band, J. C. Bartholf addressed the throng, eulogizing the Grand Army veterans, and also put in some kind words for the good people of Riverview. Mrs. O. H. Brand came next and recited "The American Flag" in a finished manner.

Dr. J. B. Whiting delivered an instructive and entertaining little speech. His line of thought last evening was directed towards "old glory," a flag which not only represented civic freedom, but religious liberty as well. Dr. Whiting never fails to interest his hearers, and on this occasion he appeared at his best and received the heartiest applause of his hearers.

The Flag Went Up.

The members of W. H. Sargent Post No. 20, G. A. R., were assigned the next number, it being the raising of the handsome American flag, 7 by 14 feet in size, and while the band played the Star Spangled Banner, "Old Glory" was slowly but steadily raised to the top of the staff, and then followed three rousing cheers for the "banner of the free."

Music by the fife and drum corps concluded the exercises and ice cream and cake was then served, nearly all patronizing the booths, which were in charge of the Y. M. C. A, quite a sum being netted for the benefit of the association and it is said over thirty gallons of cream were used.

Was a Pretty Scene.

The good people of Riverview are to be congratulated upon the grand success of this entertainment. They are under obligations to Captain Pliny Norcross for his efforts in illuminating the park with electric lights on this occasion. Riverview never appeared to a better adavantage, and people who never climbed that beautiful hill before, but stood on the summit last evening and surveyed the city which stretched out before them, were amazed at the scene, and wondered how it could have escaped being discovered until the coming of George L. and Sarah H. Carrington.

Gossip From Milton.

MILTON, June 19—On Thursday, the Golden Eagles of Janesville, and the Miltons will play here. This will be a game well worth seeing, the Eagles being the best club in Janesville. Remember that the game is to be played tomorrow. The Clinton Greys will not play the Miltons again unless they can pick up players from all over the state. They ought to be satisfied with players from Clinton, Beloit, Madison and Sharon, which towns were represented in their nine that was beaten here, but they are not. The Miltons made them a fair, square proposition Monday, but the men representing the Greys dare not make the match and play a nine composed of of players who took part in previous games. The "snap" they bragged about before playing the last game here, was too expensive for them, and the cross roads town, with a postoffice and one store, as their captain sketched it to the traveling man, has frightened the "Confederates" out of what little courage they possessed as ball players. Tobacco growers are hard at work setting plants today. Monday's rain put the ground in fine condition.

HIS COUPON SCHEME ALL RIGHT.

A. C. Switzer, of Elgin, is in Town With a Legitimate Business.

A. C. Switzer, representing the free reading matter coupon system, with headquarters at Elgin, Ill., is in the city for business, intending, to permanently locate here. Mr. Switzer is a relative of G. B. Stevens, of 319 South Main Street, who personally endorses Mr. Switzer as to honesty and square dealing. Mr. Switzer is confronted in Janesville with a swindling scheme recently perpetrated by a fraudulent concern, and the merchants hesitate to make contracts with him. The Gazette will state for Mr. Switzer's benefit, that he is in no way connected with any scheme, but that he is doing a straightforward ligitimate business, and entitled to credit and confidence. He has lately worked in Belvidere, and has always lived in Elgin. His indorsements that follow will convince the most skeptical man that he is all right. Mr. Switzer will be assisted in his work here by George Blasdell of Elgin.

BELVIDERE, June 18, 1865: This i to certify that the Free Reading Matter Coupon System, as managed by the American Advertising Company of Elgin, Ill., which is being used in our town is all right, a good way of advertising.

The manager, Mr. A. C. Switzer, has been here two months and has proved himself to be upright and honorable in his manner of doing business.

SEN. BECKWITH.S HORSES HERE

The Well Known Wyoming Stable Has Arrived At the Track.

The latest string of race horses, and one of the best that ever entered the fair grounds, are now quartered at the track, having arrived in their own special car yesterday direct from Washington Park, Chicago. The string is composed of eleven head, three being pacers, while the remaining eight are trotters. They are as fine a looking lot as one would care to see, and are under the able management of A. Hansen, who is part owner, while the training is in charge of Robert Carathan whose reputation as a skilled driver is well established in this city, he having visited the Janesville track for a number of years. Robert Hocker, Charles Wescott, William Watts, F. Flynn, E. M. Tippin and George Griffin are employed as grooms by Mr. Hanson. The horses were wintered in Texas and will remain most of the summer in Janesville, they being entered in the July races. The string is composed of the following:

Valencia, a four-year-old, with a two-year-old record of 2:52; Sarah Shelton, 2:27¼; Alice Fenner, three-year-old; Annie Lauder, three-year-old, by Ned Wilkes, dam by Dictator; Modestes Belle, by Statan Wood, dam by Wanneta, 2:20; Bedford, with a three-year-old record of 2:30; Maggie Almont, 2:18; Brent Wells, 2:19¼; Bedmark, four-year-old; Marcus Dailey, 2:22, by Statan Wood, dam by Strathmore; and Wyoming Chief.

GOSSIP OF WISCONSIN CITIES

OSHKOSH manufacturers are very indignant over the assertions of Ethelbert Stewart of the labor bureau, concerning child labor in their factories. They deny that there is any ground for his assertion except perhaps in individual cases where the parents of the child have practiced deception about the age. They say that they have no employes under 14 years of age and but few under 16 years.

CHIEF Consul A. C. Morrison has issued an address to the members of the Wisconsin division of the League of American Wheelmen and other cyclist asking that they refrain from riding on the crowded thoughfares at a high rate of speed.

H. Mallescher, a workman at the Thompson Plow works in Beloit, was drawn in and held by his elbow between the pulley and timber in the ceiling of the room till the timber was sawed off to release him. He was badly but not fatally hurt.

PROFESSOR A. F. ROTE, superintendent of the Beloit public schools for four years, has been engaged for the same work by the school board of Monroe. The salary is $1,750.

THE preliminasy examination of Corry Bros., the Madison grocers charged with selling butterine, has begun at Madison.

JOHN SCHULTZ, an old resident of Colby, was found hanging in the upper portion of his house.

GRASSHOPPERS are doing considerable damage to vegetation in the vicinity of Peshtigo.

Buggies Must Go.

That $3,000 stock of Gay buggies we placed in our ware rooms June 1 are going fast, especially those $35.00 road wagons either end or side spring. O. C. Alworth, Transfer Place.

CHILD LABOR STORY IS NOT TRUE HERE

SPECIAL AGENT STEWART DIDN'T VISIT JANESVILLE.

Manager Heller of the Cotton Mills Company, The Largest Employe of Young Help in the City, Denies The Stories Told By the Inrpector At St. Paul.

When Special Agent Stewart was interviewed at St. Paul in regard to Wisconsin factories and told at length of the state of affairs therein, he put both feet in it. As far as the Janesville factories are concerned he told that which is untrue. He enlarged especially on the cotton factories and beer bottling plants. Manager Heller, of the Janesville Cotton Company, says that Special Agent Stewart has never visited either factory to his knowledge, and that no inspector has been here since the last state report was made. The children employed at the cotton mills, while they are at the mills over ten hours a day, do not work over six hours of that time, owing to the nature of their employment, and the balance of the time is spent in play or sitting in the windows. Their work at no time is considered hard, a fact which has been frequently commented upon by the state inspector.

The cotton mills do not compel their employes to carry accident policies; in fact, Manager Heller never heard of an instance where such a rule was enforced. The buildings are all thoroughly ventilated and the children are all healthy. No instance is known where a child who has been discharged on the inspector's report has been put to work. There are certainly no evidences of immorality. There are overseers in every department, whose business it is to see that nothing of an immoral nature is allowed. In the woolen mills, knitting factory and the shoe factory, there are few children employed, and those are all of lawful age. The factories are well ventilated, and with the exception of the woolen mills the two sexes work in different rooms with overseers over each room, who allows no visiting and certainly no familiarity. The factory owners are very indignant overy Stewart's statement.

A DAY OF DAYS FOR OLD SETTLERS

Picnic at Crystal Springs Park Promises To Be a Great Event.

Even though arrangements have hardly been completed for the basket picnic to be held at Crystal Springs Park, June 25, by the Early Settlers society of Rock county, plans are already being made by a great many of the society and their friends too, attend and from appearances at this early day the grounds will be thronged with people. As has been previously stated, the picnic is not to be given for the members of the society only, but all their friends as well, and any wishing to become a member of the organization having lived in the county for thirty-five years or more can do so by calling on the secretary, F. S. Lawrence, at his office, 115 West Milwaukee street. The object of the society in giving the picnic is simply and purely for pleasure, and to this end they are using every effort in their power. A good speech, three-minute talks and good old fashioned music, both vocal and instrumental, will help to pass one of the most enjoyable of days. Don't forget the date, June 25.

Gertrude A. Davis.

Gertrude A. Davis died at her home in Cresco Iowa, June 11, aged twenty-nine years. She was the daughter of Mrs. Joseph Davis, and has been a helpless cripple for more than six years. She with her parent removed from Milton to Cresco about three years ago, and during that time she has made many friends by her patience and cheerfulness in suffering, who extend their sympathy to the bereaved family. Her death was caused by paralysis, it being the third stroke.

DeWitt's Colic and Cholera Cure never disappoints, never fails to give immediate relief. It cures just as sure as you take it. C. D. Stevens.

A Word to Mothers.

While the hot summer weather is here it will be hard enough for you to take care of house work and attend to the countless daily duties that every mother must care for without having boys around with torn clothes to mend. Its cheaper by far to get one of our boys suits we are selling for $2 and $3, than to mend the old ones. We fit any boy from 4 to 14 years of age perfectly. Frank H. Baack.

When occasion demands its use, try De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve. It is cooling to burns, stops pain instantly, cleanses, a perfect healer for scalds or skin eruptions. Always cures piles. C. D. Stevens.

There is great danger in neglecting cholera, colic and similar complaints. An absolutely prompt and safe cure is found in DeWitt's Colic and Cholera Cure. C. D. Stevens.

Resolutions of Respect.

At a regular meeting of Rock county Pomona Grange held June 5, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted on the death of our esteemed brother, Aaron Broughton:

WHEREAS, The decrees of Providence are inscrutable, to which the young and old must bow in submission, we are thus as a grange, called upon to mourn the loss of a fellow member, a highly esteemed brother, cut off as it were, in the prime of life and usefulness, endeared to us all by many fraternal ties, and those sterling qualities of heart and mind so largely possessed, in the firm stand and active zeal he preeminently manifested in advocating and upholding the principles of our order, while having filled some of the most exalted positions within our gates; prominent also in any just cause, with progressive ideas and tendencies in striving to uplift his fellow laborers; an honor to the grange and the community of which he was so worthy a member; therefore

Resolved, That as a mark of respect to our diseased brother, our charter be draped in mourning for sixty days, a memorial page in our record be devoted to the perpetuation of his memory and a copy of these resolutions be sent to his bereaved family, while sincerely tendering our condolence in the severe loss they have sustained. Also,

Resolved, That a copy be sent to the "American Grange Bulletin" and to our county papers for publication.

COURT WILL HEAR THE WHOLE STORY

HOGAN-SMITH TROUBLE IS TO BE AIRED.

Both Men Refuse to Make Any Statement For Publication and the Stories Told By Their Friend Vary, But the One Who Is Wrong Should Be Disciplined.

Some nights ago Officer John W. Hogan and Night Watchman Edward Smith had trouble at the Chicago & Northwestern depot and in the course of the assault, melee, fight, or whatever it may be called, Watchman Smith was worsted and received injuries that have resulted in his staying in the house until today when he was out for a brief time. There have been many conflicting stories told about the affair all of which cannot be true. The Gazette has interviewed both Mr. Smith and Mr. Hogan, and both decline to make any statement for publication and as The Gazette does not wish to do either an injustice nothing has been published in these columns in regard to the difficulty. Both of the men have their friends who insist that their story is the correct one, and as neither of the principals will give their version of the affair, heresay and rumor is all that can be had. It is said that Watchman Smith will begin legal proceedings against Officer Hogan, and when matters come into court the whole story will be told.

"When the case gets before the jury, all will be known," is the declaration made by both men. In the meantime, one thing stands out boldly—whichever man is found to be in the wrong, should be held accountable for his acts, and doubtless he will be.

THE NEWS OF ROCK COUNTY.

Fairfield News Notes.

FAIRFIELD, June 18.—Mrs. James Gregory and children of Iowa, are visiting Fairfield friends. J. C. Putnam is building a large granery. An interesting Childrens' day program was given at the church Sunday evening, June 9. Mrs. D. R. Williams and daughter Mary, visited Mr. Williams at Mendota, on June 6, and found him rapidly improving in health. B. Conry has placed a fine refrigerator in the store. On the evening of June 12, a company of nearly one hundred guests assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Cutter to witness the marriage of their daughter Elma, to David Dykeman. The ceremony was performed by Rev. B. F. White, after which the company repaired to a large tent on the lawn, where a wedding feast was served. Miss Cutter has lived all her life in this neighborhood and is held in much respect by her young friends. Mr. Dykeman is an old resident here and is well and favorably known by all. They go at once to housekeeping on Mr. Dykeman's farm. The dry werther and chinch bugs make the farmers tremble for the coming harvest.

Emerald Grove Items.

EMERALD GROVE, June 18—The Fourth of July will be celebrated here by a picnic in Boynton's woods, and the public are invited. Full particulars will be given next week. Mrs. L. Spear, of Janesville, was in the village recently. Miss Lizzie Gillies and Miss Cora Morgan, of Evansville, are visiting relatives here. Rev. George H. Hann, state worker for the Congregational Publishing Society, gave the church goers a description of his work Sunday morning, which was very interesting. Fine rains on Monday were a great benefit to vegetation of all kinds. The dry weather of the past three weeks was telling on the crops, particularly small grain and meadows. Hay cannot now be over one half last year's crop. Mrs. Duncan McArthur was called to Whitewater by the death of her brother at that place. The Dykeman-Cutter wedding at Fairfield was well attended by several of our people last week. Gillies & Jones have in a good supply of celebration goods. Come and see them, fire crackers 8 for 25 cents. The Ladies Aid society will serve ice cream and cake at D. E. Jones' Friday evening of this week. A good time may be expected.

"When I was out west," said the man who runs about the country selling windmills, "I struck a saloon in a little mining town that was called the Civil Service Reform bar."

"That was rather queer," said the man who stays at home and sells shoes.

"I thought so, too, until I found out the reason of the name. I went in to get a glass of beer; got it and laid down a dollar. The man behind the bar took the dollar, dropped it in the till and picked up his newspaper to read. 'Don't I get any change?' says I. 'Nope,' says he; 'this is run on civil service principles, and we don't believe in making any unnecessary change.' As he had a shotgun in handy reach I concluded to let it go at that."—Cincinnati Tribune.

The Only Remedy in the World that Refunds Purchase Price if it Fails to Cure the Tobacco Habit in 4 to 10 Days is

Narcoti-Cure

It Cures while You Continue the Use of Tobacco.

The greatest discovery of the age!

A certain, pleasant, permanent cure.

A lifetime's suffering ended for $5.

Why smoke and spit your life away? Why suffer from dyspepsia, heartburn and drains on your vital forces?

Stop using tobacco, but stop the right way

Drive the nicotine from your system by use of this wonderful remedy.

Narcoti cure is warranted to remove all desire for tobacco in every form, including Cigar, Cigarette and Pipe smoking, Chewing and Snuff Taking.

Use all the tobacco you want while under treatment, and in from four to ten days your "hankering" and "craving" will disappear—the weed won't taste good.

Then throw away tobacco forever.

Narcoti-Cure is entirely vegetable and free from injurious ingredients. It never fails to give tone and new vigor to the weakest constition.

Remember Narcoti-Cure doesn't deprive you of tobacco while effecting a cure; doesn't ask you to buy several bottles to be entitled to a guarantee; doesn't require a month's tratment; and finall, doesn't enable you to stop tobacco only to find yourself a slave to the habit of tablet chewing.

With Narcoti-Cure, when you are through with tobacco you are through with the remedy. One bottle cures.

HUNTINGTON, Mass. Mar. 18, 1895.
The Narcoti Chemical Co.,
Springfield, Mass.

Gentlemen:—I have used tobacco for over twenty-five years, chewing and smoking every day from 7 a. m. to 9 p. m. stopping only for meals.

On Monday, February 4, I called at your office in Springfield, and bought a bottle the Cure which I used as directed and on the tenth day the desire for tobacco had left me and has not returned. I did not lose a meal while taking the Cure. My appetite has improved and I consider Narcoti-Cure a grand thing.

Very respectfully,
CHAS. I. LINCOLN.

Mr. Frank H. Morton, of Chicopee Falls, Mass. late Inspector of Public Buildings for Massachusetts, says:

I used tobacco for twenty-five years, and was a confirmed smoker. In just eight days' treatment with Narcoti-Cure I was through with tobacco, in fact the desire vanished like a dream.

Very Respectfully,
FRANK H. MORTON.

He had been deceived as to the real situation in Mexico, and on assuming the imperial dignity offered by a delegation of notables found bitter opposition at the hands of the Liberals. He was taken prisoner after a sharp battle at Queretaro and executed in retaliation for his harsh decrees against Mexicans who resisted his authority.

Ornamentation of Glass.

The ornamentation of glass is now proposed to be effected by means of an ingenious process in which a coat of acid resist is laid on the glass, and from the parts forming the background to the design the "resist" is removed with a stencil, soda and hydrofluoric acid being then poured upon the surface; hydrofluoric acid is next applied, the resist removed, and the glass cleaned, the latter being now coated with stain, the use of the stencil being the means for freezing the ornament from such stain, the latter remaining as a protection for the background. After burning the stain into the glass, the latter is taken from the kiln, cleansed, and the required outline traced upon the glass, the background at the same time filled with acid resist; the solution of soda and hydrofluoric acid is again poured on so as to leave a white "mat" on the whole ornament, leaving the outline, which is protected by the resist, clear; the shading-in is then accomplished in the usual manner.

Its canons and witches' gulch are features never to be forgotten, for there is nothing like them in America. Do not fail to enroll yourself as one of the great number who will take advantage of the excursion to this resort on Wednesday, June 26, over the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Ry. The fare for the round trip, which also covers the steamboat trip on the river, is but two dollars.

Milwaukee Lawyer Kills Himself.

Milwaukee, June 19.—Bradley G. Schley, a brilliant young lawyer and society man, sat in his office yesterday and shot himself with a revolver, the ball entering just behind the right ear. He died almost instantly. He was unfortunate in several business ventures during the last two years and recently met with financial reverses. His suicide was undoubtedly caused by despondency brought on by these losses.

and those soon to become mothers, should know that Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription robs childbirth of its tortures, terrors and dangers to both mother and child, by aiding nature in preparing the system for parturition. Thereby "labor" and the period of confinement are greatly shortened. It also promotes the secretion of an abundance of nourishment for the child.

Mrs. DORA A. GUTHRIE, of Oakley, Overton Co., Tenn., writes: "When I began taking your 'Favorite Prescription,' I was not able to stand on my feet without suffering almost death. Now I do all my housework, washing, cooking, sewing and everything for my family of eight. I am stouter now than I have been in six years. Your 'Favorite Prescription' is the best to take before confinement, or at least it proved so with me. I never suffered as little with any of my children as I did with my last, and she is the healthiest we've got. Have induced several to try 'Favorite Prescription,' and it has proved good for them."

MAY BUY A ROLLER FOR ROAD MAKING

COUNCIL COMMITTEE IN SESSION TODAY.

Some Aldermen Favor the Purchasing of That Machine Together With a Stone Crusher, While Others Think Stone Can Be Bought Cheaper Ready to Use.

THE highway, street and bridge committee of the common council is holding a meeting this afternoon, considering the question of procuring a stone crusher and heavy steam roller. Street Commissioner Watson, in his annual report, strongly commended the purchase of these machines, but so far the council has taken no action. A number of the aldermen favor the purchase of a heavy steam roller but at the same time, some of those who favor the heavy roller do not fully endorse the recommendation regarding the stone crusher. They say our stone is not just the right kind to make streets or good roads, and that it would, in their opinion, be cheaper and better to buy stone at Baraboo, already prepared than to invest in a machine. However, the committee will discuss and decide these questions and make the result known probably at the next meeting of the council.

THE LICENSE CASE IS AGAIN IN COURT

NEW ACTION BEGUN BY THE SALOON MEN.

Their Attorneys, J. L. Mahoney and E. M. Hyzer, Have New Grounds Based On the Supreme Courts' Decision of the Other Case—City Attorney McElroy's View of the Case.

When the Supreme court decided that the recent license election held in Janesville was valid they also decided that it was invalid.

That is the claim made by attorneys J. L. Mahoney and Edward M. Hyzer, and they began a new suit this morning along that line.

In their decision, the Supreme court held, to be brief and to avoid legal technicalities, that the election was or should be, held under the "general election law" as laid down in sections 9, 10 and 11. The plaintiff had held that the election was illegal for two reasons; that due notice had not been given, and that the ballots were not in proper form. The Supreme court held that the ballots used were legal, but that "it did not affirmatively appear that due notice (under the section quoted) had not been given."

Manner of Giving Notice

The brief of the attorneys stated in effect, that notice was given by publication in The Gazette and Recorder but not in the Republican (although the law provided that it should have been given in all the daily newspapers published in the city,) and "in no other form and in no other manner." Now the court holds that the notice should have been given under the sections of the general law which says that "notice shall also be given by the posting of five notices of election in conspicuous places by the inspectors in each ward and voting precinct in the city" which was not done at all. Therefore on the ground that the supreme court, in affirming the decision of Judge Bennett, virtually decided the case in their favor, the attorneys, in behalf of their clients the saloon keepers, begun the new suit today.

The Plaintiff's Claims.

In the petition filed today, the plaintiff in the action, James Ennis, after enumerating the officers of the election in question, sets forth that the election was called for by petition of voters as required by law; that the notice of election was published in The Gazette and Recorder and that no notice of any other nature was exhibited, posted or attempted to be posted by an inspector or given in any other manner or form; that the election was not held under any order, resolution, by-law or ordinance of the common of the common council; that it was not conducted in the manner provided for general elections in any or all respects, but that no notice was given in any manner or form other than as above stated. He therefore holds that by reason thereof, that the "said alleged special election was wholly void and without effect"; and for that reason the sum to be paid for license had not been lawfully changed, but remains at the former figure, $200.

Stopped His Sale.

He further contends that the pretended canvas of the said pretended election and the accompanying resolution, and action, was taken without jurisdiction, authority, and in violation of law, therefore being without effect.

Ennis also sets forth that by reason of the alleged invalid election, he was prevented from making a sale of his saloon business and property to Joseph Denning, and Joseph Dunphy; that he was consequently damaged to the extent of $100 and prays that a writ of certiorari be granted and that the election be declared undue, illegal and void.

The petition of the tax payers asking for the election, a copy of the notice published, and proceedings of the council in relation to the matter are annexed, and the document was filed with Clerk of the Court Goldin this morning.

Attorney McElroy Confident

City Attorney Horace McElroy did not "take to the woods" when notiged of this new proceeding. A Gazette reporter called on Mr. McElroy this afternoon.

"I have know for some time," said he, "that some such proceeding would be commenced, but I cannot see anything in it which has not already been covered by the decision of the supreme court. I understand it is proposed to make a point on the fact that no notices of the election were posted in the several wards, which I think will not avail anything. Decisions are plenty to show that this is not necessary so long as the voters generally receive notice." Mr. McElroy then went on to state that in his opinion the decision of the supreme court covered the entire ground, so that no one need entertain fears that it will be now set aside.

All Had Notice.

"Why, the fact that the notice of the special election was only published in two of the three papers, and that no notices were posted by the inspectors, cuts no figure. If the notice had only been published in one paper, I think it would have been sufficient, because the result of the election, the large vote cast, shows plainly that the voters received notice. The saloon men who are bringing this suit all had notice of election, because they were all out, not only voting, but working hard to get others out to vote. In olden times, not very far back, when newspapers were few and generally of small circulation, it was necessary to inform the people that such notices be posted. It was also the custom to have town criers, but now, with better means of informing the people these things have become obsolete and not considered necessary," he explained.

ARE PLANNING ON A BIG PICNIC

The Traveling Men Will Have a Big Time On July 6.

Preparations are now being made for a great picnic to be given July 6, at Crystal Springs, by the Traveling Men's Association. Among the many features of the day will be a minstrel show, given by local traveling men, for which Smith's orchestra will furnish the music. A grand noonday parade will take place, headed by the Imperial band. J. M. Whitehead will be the speaker of the day, and the event promises to be something out of the usual line.

THE JOURNEY OF LIFE IS ENDED

Miss Stella Tuckwood.

The death of Miss Stella Tuckwood, which occurred at 10 o'clock last evening, while not wholly unexpected, was a severe blow to the sorrow stricken parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Tuckwood, whose home has been visited for the third time by the messenger of death, claiming one of their children at each visit. Stella Tuckwood was born March 17, 1878, and was therefore only seventeen years of age. She was remarkably bright and intelligent for her age, possessing a grace of manner that won her friends everywhere and making her a great favorite in society circles. She possessed considerable ability as an elocutionist, and was frequently called upon to take part in entertainments. She was also a member of Christ church choir, and possessed a sweet alto voice. Miss Tuckwood had been sick only a short time. Two weeks ago last Sunday she was stricken with what proved to be peritonitis, and although everything was done to relieve her she quietly passed away at 10 o'clock last evening. The funeral will be held at Trinity church Thursday afternoon, at 4 o'clock.

Funeral of Mrs. Blow.

MADE DEATHLY SICK BY POISONED MEAT

ATE DRIED BEEF THAT WAS FULL OF GERMS.

Mrs. E. Watson Was Seriously Effected, While Her Daughter Mrs. C. E. Sherwood and Miss Jessie Sherwood Were Not Made so Ill—All Will Recover.

There was death in the dried beef the family of Engineer C. E. Sherwood ate for supper last night, but owing to the timely arrival of Dr. Pember, all those afflicted thereby are now out of danger, although Mrs. E. Watson is still quite ill, and Mrs. Sherwood and Miss Jessie Sherwood still feel the effects of the effected meat.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood, their daughter Jessie, and Mrs. Sherwood's mother, Mrs. Watson, all reside at 212 South Academy street. They sat down to supper together at 5.20 last evening, and among the other dishes on the table was newly bought dried beef. All ate more or less of the meat and nothing was thought about it until 8:30 o'clock in the evening when Mrs. Watson was taken violently ill with all the symptoms of poisoning. She was immediately put to bed and Dr. Pember was sent for. When he arrived he found that Mrs. Watson was very sick and in the mean time, Miss Sherwood had been taken violently ill. While Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood both felt the effects of the poison they were not prostrated, and the other cases yielded readily to treament. All are now considered out of danger although Mrs. Watson is still quite ill, but it was a close call as well as a rather unpleasant experience.

What is the truth? Nothing that will not bear the closest investigation. Nothing that has to be bolstered up by learned evasions and vague appeals to the "mystery" of things.

VARIOUS NOTES.

Camellia Buds, Gauze and Lace Ruches and Tailor Gowns.

Necklets of colored gauffered gauze, formed of rosettes and finished with plaited ends, either of similar material or of lace, make bright adjuncts to a somber dress. Crinkled and watered gauzes are very popular, and veils passed twice round the neck and tied in a neat little bow, either in front or at the back, are considered chic. Tulle tied in a very big light bow at the back is also much in favor, especially in white and light tones. Small camellia buds, just bursting, and surrounded by the glossy dark green leaves peculiar to that shrub, are the latest novelty employed by a leading modiste.

"Modified" tailor gowns, altered to suit the elaboration and amplitude of the present mode, are worn in Paris by women who have a lingering taste for a degree of severity in dress. The bodices are arranged with crossed boleros, or are cut off at the waist and open over a chemisette, vest or plastron, which permits the use of different blouses.

It is considered bad taste to fold napkins in fantastic forms, although once much ingenuity was exercised to invent curious and complicated modes of arranging them. The napkin is now folded in a plain square, with the embroidered cipher or initial on the outside, and are as little stiff as possible. Tinted table scarfs may be employed by those who prefer them, but pure white damask is considered to be in the best taste. In some French country houses the napkin ring has reappeared, or a similar device for individualizing napkins. Small pockets of linen are embroidered with some pretty design, and inside the flap is tacked a ribbon on which the name of the resident guest is written in ink. When he goes, the ribbon may be ripped off, the pocket washed and a new ribbon put on in readiness for the napkin of the next guest.

The illustration shows a street gown of coral crepon, striped with nickel gray. The godet skirt is open on the side over a panel of coral bengaline. Round cords of gray and coral silk adorn the skirt at hips and foot. The close, short bodice, with two points in front, is of nickel bengaline and has a vest of coral gauze with dots. It is trimmed with cord, like the skirt. The sleeves are of nickel bengaline, close at the top and bottom and finished with cords. A straw toque trimmed with shaded poppies completes the costume.

NEW PARASOLS.

Trimmings For Sunshades and Combinations of Blue and Green.

The newest parasols are of pearl and iridescent moire, encircled with two inch bands of black satin. Others, of plain satin or moire, are narrowly edged with silken gimp or coarse guipure, either cream or black, while others again are artistically ornamented with applications of rousse lace or coarse chantilly, either in white or black. Handles are as varied in form and make as possible. The neatest and most serviceable have small crutches of polished gun metal, narrowly rimmed with gold or silver. More expensive specimens are dotted with seed pearls or minute diamond sparks; some are inset with a swallow or bat, a star or a horseshoe of diamonds, or mixed and colored gems; others again with ovoid knobs or round balls of crystal, are mounted in cagelike floral arrangements of old silver or gold work. Plain tortoise shell or tortoise shell and gold handles are new and neat, while the emerald green wood sticks surmounted by a small gold cap or decorative ball or silver gilt Louis Seize handle are the most in vogue.

Scotch plaid silk is extremely fashionable in Paris. Sleeves, blouses and entire gowns are made of it, although it is most frequently employed in combination with plain goods. The plaids are of all sizes, varieties and colors, some of the blendings being really exquisite, even in the eyes of that large class of persons who have a dislike of plaids and checks as a rule. The fashion of combining green and blue in millinery has of course revived the time honored green and blue plaid, while newer combinations, such as rose and green, blue, tan and white and blendings of different tones in wood browns are as artistic and effective as could be desired.

The illustration shows an outdoor costume of old green crepon, very soft. The skirt is crossed in front and slightly lifted. The bodice is draped and crossed over a yoke of white satin embroidered with jet. The back of the bodice is plain. The tight sleeves have large puffs caught up by black satin choux, and similar choux fasten the bodice drapery. The collar of embroidered satin also has black satin choux.

A Most Nagnificent Heirloom

Is health. No gem in tiara or coronet is so precious. Per contra, a heredetary tendency to disease, often proves a fatal legacy, since the most trifling causes may fertilize the latest germs of ill health, and render the fruitage deadly. An inherent transmitted weakness of the physical constitution is more effectually opposed and counteracted by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters than by any other safeguard. Digestion and assimilation promoted, due biliary secretion, action of the kidneys and bowels insured, are so many guarantees of permanent health, and these are the consequences, among others of like importances, of a resort to the Bitters. This medicine also prevents and remedies malarious complaints, nervousness, chronic insomnia, rheumatism and neuralgia. Such warnings as loss of appetite and sleep, too, should not be disregarded. The Bitters will restore both without fail.

Two Great Excursions to Boston.

Regular summer tourists tickets to the many delightful mountain, lake and seaside resorts of the east are now on sale. Complete list of rates and rates with any further information desired will be promptly furnished on application. M. S. Giles Pass. Agt., Chicago.

There is one medicine that will cure immediately. We refer to Dr. Witt's Colic and Cholera Cure for all summer complaints. No delay, no disappointment, no failure. C. D. Stevens.

'Tis I go fiddling, fiddling
By weedy ways forlorn.
I make the blackbird's music
Ere in his breast 'tis born.
The sleeping larks I waken
'Twixt the midnight and the morn.

No man alive has seen me,
But women hear me play,
Sometimes at door or window,
Fiddling the souls away,
The child's soul and the colleen's
Out of the covering clay.

AN UNSIGNED WILL.

The doctor opened the creaking wooden gate. It was half past 9 on a clear frosty winter night, and he was five miles from home, and cold and hungry.

"How is she?" he said to the gaunt, grim old woman who opened the door.

"I don't know. Better see yourself. I'm no doctor," was the rough reply.

The room was low and mean, but the woman who lay on the bed struggling with death had a coquettish air that clashed with her age. Perhaps it came from the real lace on her nightcap, perhaps from the valenciennes that encircled her shriveled brown throat, or maybe the golden fringe, which, too young for the shrunken face, gave it to her.

"Amaryllis," said the surly woman, "here's the doctor."

The humble country practitioner stepped forward, and even in the dim lamplight could be seen the flannel cuffs, hiatus of gray stocking between old trousers and clumsy boots, frayed linen twofold collar, silver watch chain and greasy, ready made tie that betrayed the small local practice.

"Amaryllis, wake up, wake up. Doctor's here. God knows you've called enough for him."

The woman on the bed, whose name seemed a jest, opened her heavy, vague eyes, coughed faintly and groaned.

"Is it Dr. Watson, Janet?" she asked.

"Of course! There's none other for miles," was the testy reply.

Dr. Watson went through the orthodox farce of feeling pulse and taking temperature, but saw at a glance that she was at the last whirl in her dance of death.

"Has she made her will?" he asked softly.

However, Amaryllis caught the words, and in a cracked scream of excitement said:

"That's it. That's it, doctor. I want to make a will. I can't die easy. Janet, get him pen and ink."

"It's nonsense, doctor," said Janet. "Let her die in peace. She need make no will—she's no kith nor kin but me, her sister."

"Put the pillow under my head, both pillows," called the patient. "I'm choking! Yes, that's it. Now, doctor, for God's mercy do what I ask—Janet will let me—or I can't die easy."

Janet's face grew black with anger.

"She's not fit to make a will, and I'm all she has in the world," said she.

"Listen, listen, doctor! I'm in my mind; I can't die easy. It's short enough—£3,000 and the cottage to Janet, the rest to Charles Harford, now on the training ship, the Monarch."

The doctor took out a stylographic pen and picked up from the fender an old letter, on only one side of which there was writing.

"Stop, stop!" said Janet. "She's mad. There's no such person. Ask her who he is."

"God forgive me," groaned Amaryllis. "I'll die happier if some one knows. I've been a wicked woman."

The doctor sprinkled some eau de cologne on her head from a curious old silver bottle that stood on a chair by the bedside and gave her something to drink out of a medicine bottle. Then with desperate energy the old woman told her story, despite the efforts of death to check her speech.

"Father and mother were cruel, good people, and I was a blithe young woman that hated church and psalms and dull Sunday books, so when he came, Frank Harford, the handsome sailor, he had my heart for the asking. They would none of his addresses, for he wasn't a God fearing man, they said, so off we went with no blessing from parson, but a curse from father. It lasted for ten years well enough. I had a little house not in cold Norfolk, but here in this village, and he passed as my brother when on land, for he was most while at sea. However, the time came. I was older than he by some years and fretted for his absence—yes, and drank a bit—so he grew tired, but didn't break with me, was afraid to, I think—God knows why. Then her face caught him—Mary's, the coast guardsman's daughter. He kept it from me, but the village gossiped. He meant to marry her and cast me off. How I hated her, poor thing! I knew him well enough, handsome devil! He'd have married her because he thought no other way would do, and I vowed he should not marry her nor any but me, and me he wouldn't. I asked her to the house, and he courted her before my face and thought me a blind fool.

"One night, his birthday, I had her to supper and got down from London some champagne. She was to stay the night, home was so far off and the weather rough. The little fool, the little ignorant fool, believed that the champagne—never before seen in our village—was only fine cider and drank her share, and he was boisterous at the jest. Then I went out on a pretext, saying I'd be back in an hour. The next day she ran away with him. Confound her! I never saw him again."

At this point Amaryllis seemed to break down, but after dozing for a few minutes she continued in a faint voice:

"He left her soon enough and went to sea, leaving her and the baby to shift as they might. Me he dropped after that night. We'd a fearful quarrel, for he guessed that I'd schemed it all. Five years later he wrote, said he had 'found God' and married a rich woman and wanted to make amends. He'd always kept me well enough, for his father left him £3,000 and this cottage—he'd settled it on me. He sent me £500 for her and her child and begged me to look after them. I did sure enough, for I still hated her. I found she was in London, so I sent her just enough to keep her going, for I wanted her to live the cruel life, which, as I expected, she had come to lead. Year by year he sent me money, till last year, when a letter came to say he was dead. I kept nearly all of the money, and when, two years ago, she died, I sent no more, but I had the child watched, and he's 'Charles Harford' on the Monarch. And, doctor, since I've been ill and seen the parson I feel I can't die without doing right, so make the will, for love o' God!"

The doctor began to write.

"Stop," said Janet, who during the tale had walked up and down like a wild beast. "It's all madness; she's delirious."

The dying woman heard her words.

"In the box under the bed you'll find all Frank's letters. They'll prove the story."

In a few minutes Dr. Watson had finished the short will and read it to Amaryllis. Janet sat grimly on the black horsehair sofa and did not offer to raise her sister to sign.

"Come, Miss Webster," he said impatiently, "one mustn't lose time."

She did not move.

"What about witnesses?" she asked.

"I'll be one," he answered, "you"—

"Not me," she replied hastily, "that would make my legacy bad—I know that. Father was a lawyer."

The doctor knew this was true and was at once vexed and perplexed.

"To ease her"— he said.

"It's no use," she broke in, "I'll not. Will she last three parts of an hour? I can get to Mr. Trelois, our nearest neighbor, in the time, and bring him."

Dr. Watson looked at his patient.

"Yes, perhaps an hour, but be quick."

Janet put on an old black hat that looked like a bonnet flattened for country wear and a rough shawl of sham Shetland fleece, opened the door, letting in more of the cold air than was necessary, and went out, slamming it heavily.

The doctor sat down by the bedside, then recollected he was hungry, and as Amaryllis did not answer his request rummaged in an unlocked cupboard and found some bread and cheese, which he ate ravenously, moistening it with some brandy that he found in a bottle by the bedside, despite his strict orders against alcohol in any form. He made up the fire and sat in front of it, longing to smoke, till its genial warmth crept gently through him and sleep overcame the poor man, who had walked five and twenty miles that day on his ill paid rounds. The noise of the opening of the door awoke him, and, conscience stricken, he hastened to the bed. Amaryllis was still alive, but on the very limits of the borderland. There was still time. He turned to Janet.

"There's just life," he said. "Bring him in quickly."

"He's not with me," she replied stolidly. "He was out."

Dr. Watson looked at his watch.

"It's two hours since you started, what"—

Janet gave a dreary smile.

"They expected him every minute. I waited. He was too drunk when he came in."

A bright idea came into the doctor's mind.

"Sign as witness," he said. "If the legacy is bad, it does not matter. You'll get it just the same as next of kin."

"Do you think I didn't know that?" replied Janet, with a hoarse laugh.

"Then you've never been to Mr. Trelois?" shouted the doctor. "You"—

"I'm not such a fool," she answered grimly. "But, oh, it was cold in the garden!"

As she spoke she came close to the fire, which glowed impartially on her rugged, dingy face.

"D——!" said the doctor passionately. "I'll go myself. It may not be too late."

He started up, and his chair fell. Amaryllis opened her empty eyes, then a look of intelligence came into her ashen face. The doctor had nearly reached the door, when in a tone half whisper, half shriek, she called out:

"Doctor, don't leave me before it's made!"

He turned, saw her sitting up, but as he moved toward her she fell back, and the nightcap came off, showing the scanty gray hair to which the golden fringe was fastened.

"Too late," said the doctor, feeling for the beating of the heart. "Too late; you"—

"I'm an honest woman," answered Janet, "and I've no sympathy with other people's by blows."—Exchange.

Leaps of a Mountain Sheep.

No; the mountain sheep does not leap from great heights, and land either upon his horns or his feet. He knows the strength of his material too well to try it. His horns and skull might successfully withstand the shock, but the weight of his body would break his spinal column in two or three places, to say the least of it. It is true that when hard pressed a herd will sometimes plunge down a terribly steep incline, sliding and bounding from point to point, until they plough into the "slide-rock" below; but as to leaping over a sheer precipice, I never saw any one who even claimed to have ever witnessed such a thing, says an authority. The old rams often fight by butting each other terrifically, and often splinter, or sometimes break off the ends of their horns in that way.

MONEY MADE AT HOME.

Last month I cleared, after paying all expenses, $235 38; the month before $186.86 and have at the same time attended to my regular business. I believe anyone, anywhere, can do as well, as I have not a particularly good location and not much experience. When you have an article that every family wants, it is very easy selling it. It seems strange that a good, cheap dish washer was never before placed on the market. With the Perfection, which sells for $5 you can wash and dry the dishes for a family in two minutes, without putting the hands in water. As soon as people see the washer work, they want one, and that is why so much money can be made so quickly. For full particulars address The Perfection Mfg. Co. Station O. Englewood, Ill. I feel convinced that any lady or gentleman, in any location can make $5 to $10 a day, as every family will very soon have a dish washer. Try it and publish your experience for the benefit of others. Canadian Town Swept by Fire.

Tottenham, Ont., June 19.—Tottenham was swept by a terrible fire last night and half the town is in ashes. Everything being dry, fire started simultaneously in dozens of places from sparks scattered by the high wind. Allandale, a town forty miles up the line, sent down an engine, which did good work, while from the adjoining villages of Alliston and Beeton came hundreds of people with lines of hose and buckets. The commandant of the military camp at Beeton also sent over a special train with 300 soldiers. Nearly 100 buildings in all were burned and the loss is estimated at $150,000.
